

Mission Possible
“Achieving High Yield Soybeans”

Presented by

Chris Weaver (The Podfather)

Chris is a sixth generation farmer from Finksburg, MD. He farms with his parents, wife (Megan) and two kids. Their operation grows corn, soybeans and rye for distilleries. Chris and his family pride themselves on thinking of new ways of increasing yield while still protecting the soil and doing what is right for the soil. They started pushing yields in 2010 and have had great success achieving soybean yields of 158 bushel/acre on non irrigated land. He has never been satisfied with the status quo of agriculture and refuses to be told there is something farmers cannot achieve. Chris' ultimate goal is to grow 200+ bushels no-till non-irrigated soybeans.
